Area, Houses and Population.

The figures contained in this table are for the whole of Burma exclusive of the Trans-Salween Northern Shan States and the State of West Mang Lön, which were omitted from the operations. They include the returns for Synchronous and non-Synchronous areas and for the estimated areas in the Northern Shan States, the Pakòkku Chin Hills, and the Upper Chindwin, Bhamo and Myitkyinā districts. The table also comprises the estimated figures for Karenni, the component parts of which are hardly "States" in the ordinary acceptance of the term.

IMPERIAL TABLE No. II.

Variation in Population since 1872.

No census was taken in Upper Burma prior to 1891. After the annexation of Upper Burma the townships of Minhla, Taingda and Sinbaungwe were added to the Thayetmyo district from the newly annexed territory, hence the large increase in Thayetmyo between 1881 and 1891 in the Thayetmyo district. Taingda has since been amalgamated with the Minhla township. The population given for the years 1891, 1881 and 1872 for all other districts has been adjusted as closely as the available information will allow to represent the increase or decrease within the district areas as constituted on the 1st March 1901.

IMPERIAL TABLE No. III.

Towns and Villages classified by population.

Each of the "villages" referred to in Column 2 is a "hamlet," i.e., the smallest collection of buildings known by a separate name, not the charge of any separate rural official. This wider definition, combined with the extension of the Census area, accounts for the large increase of villages (28,719 to 60,395) during the ten years 1891—1901.

IMPERIAL TABLE No. XIV.

Civil condition, by age, of 50,000 of each sex of the principal indigenous races of the province.

---

This table has, with the consent of the Census Commissioner, been modified slightly to suit the special requirements of Burma. The Talaings have not been shown among the principal indigenous races of the province, as their marriage customs differ in no material particular from those of the Burmese.
